MAKING A SPLASH

DIVE OPERATIONS MANAGER JAMES HELLIWELL

Divi Dive Bonaire welcomed James Helliwell to the team as the new Dive Operations Manager in 2020. Helliwell is no stranger to the sea—he's been diving for 29 years with 11 years of experience working in the dive industry.

Hailing from South Africa, Helliwell began diving nearly three decades ago and quickly fell in love with the sport. He started diving around the world, encountering sea creatures of all shapes and sizes, including sharks, seals, sea horses, and a variety of fish species. Having visited Bonaire several times on dive holidays, Helliwell says the decision to take the helm at Divi Dive Bonaire was an easy one.

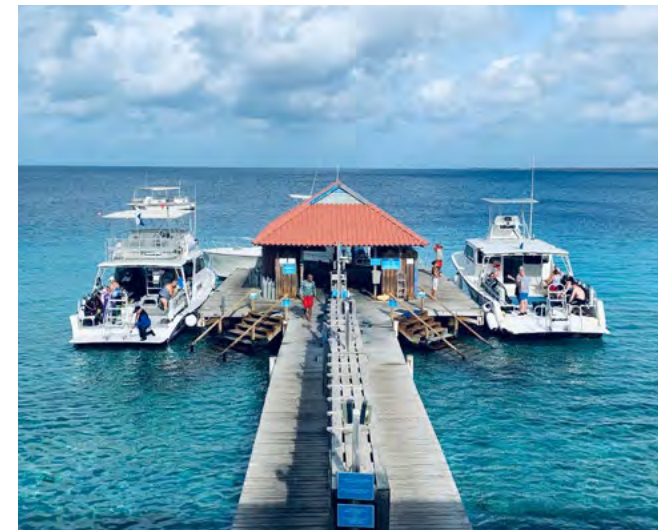

"I had visited the island for years and knew the dive sites very well. Of course, as with most, Bonaire found its way into my heart. It's voted the best shore diving destination in the world year after year, and I couldn't agree more," said Helliwell. "The ease of diving, the abundance of dive sites, the health of the reefscape, and the variety of fish are far superior to any other location I have visited. But it is more than that, Bonaire is clean, beautiful, and full of an adventurous spirit with friendly locals and expats. So when my wife and I decided to move to the Caribbean, Bonaire was the best choice for us."

Helliwell has strong management skills and a vast technical background having worked as a project manager, small business owner, technical servicing manager, divemaster trainer, scuba technician, and mechanical engineer. also spent time as a recreational and commercial fisherman, and built, repaired, and refurbished boats in Africa.

With over 13 PADI certifications and technical training in a variety of areas, Helliwell was the perfect choice for the job. At Divi Flamingo, he's been involved in all aspects of Divi Dive Bonaire's dive operation, including managing staff, training divers, overseeing maintenance, running the dive shop, enhancing customer service, and working with individual divers and groups to ensure that their dive holiday is truly the most perfect that it can be.

"James has been a wonderful addition to the team," said Celine Van Meer, Divi Flamingo Beach Resort & Casino's General Manager. "He's a strong leader with plenty of experience in the dive industry. Plus, he's great with our dive groups and actively participates in local conservation efforts."
